

Service Technician– Launceston

Irribiz, a division of ICI Industries Pty Ltd, is growing and seeking a Service Technician based in our Launceston Branch in Northern Tasmania.

We are a large family-owned business represented across 5 states of Australia with strong values and ambitious aspirations. We are committed to high standards and occupy an important space in the Irrigation market supplying products and services to the agricultural, horticultural, hydroponic and irrigation industries.

Our team of dedicated staff work across a range of disciplines including design, installation, project management, research and development and service. We are a single destination solutions provider for our valued clients.

This full-time position is part of the Service & Installation team. The role includes farming, domestic & council irrigation installations, commissioning, fault finding and maintenance.

The successful applicant will be highly motivated with a strong interest in the Irrigation or Horticulture sector. Reporting to the Branch Manager it would be considered beneficial for the Service Technician to have experience, but not essential in the following:

- Direct liaison with our valued customers
- Carry out installation of irrigation pump/filtration stations and componentry to a high level
- Experience in HDPE Poly Pipe Welding & PVC Mainline Installation
- Have an understanding of pump & filtration system operations
- Be competent in the use of irrigation & backflush controllers
- Carry out irrigation system flow and pressure testing for diagnostics & commissioning
- Interpret irrigation installation drawings
- Carry out written service reports
- Be available to travel to sites with stayovers on occasion

The successful candidate will have:

- A current drivers licence
- Tools applicable to the role
- White card & applicable high-risk licenses or VOC's
- Basic Excel capability
- Excellent communication skills
- A forklift license

We offer

- Competitive remuneration package
- Regular training and career development
- An enthusiastic work environment with passionate people
- A company vehicle will be provided to undertake this role

Now is the time to join a dynamic and supportive team in a thriving locally owned business and further develop your career.
